As you see, Eliza Clark 29e 16 and Rose (Rosanna) Clark 29e 11

are listed twice, Heywards answer to that is that the two

Clarks were visiting the occupants of households 94 + 133

when the census was taken, could be!

I copied the following from the St. Helena Parish Register

1823-1894 - Copy in Bpt. Library. - Under Marriages -

Samuel C. Catherford to Lydia A. Arden, April 28, 1853

Witnesses, Franklin Tabbard and Eliza Clark.

Franklin Tabbard is my grand-father and Eliza Clark

Mrs. Jenkins Mother. ^{1st.} A ~~Witness~~ of my grandfathers, Julia Mary Johnson, married Samuel Catherwood Cunningham.

The name was spelled "Catherford" as written but there were many mistakes in that record, which I reported to the Library official.

In checking those records later I found a corrected copy, but did not check that spelling. Mr. DeCorme did not copy the 1860 nor the ones prior to 1850, however not worth the effort now the census' listed point to the ^{assumption} fact that James Clark was the name of Mrs. Jenkins father and grandfather. The 1860 census and later ones will give us an idea as to when James Clark (29e 39)

and Esther Foy died, if we cannot find out elsewhere.

* There may be a family connection with the Clarks and Catherwoods.

Note: Jane CEZYK evidently had the name Eileen also as I have often heard Mrs. Jenkins speak of "Aunt Eileen", and mentioned what a devout Catholic she was and that it was through her efforts that her father (W^m Foy) was baptized just before he died. When I started this work, with that in mind, I wrote to The Church Archives in Charleston, hoping to get date of death and place of burial of Mr. Foy. They kindly sent copies of me, three certificates of Baptism. One for Mrs. Jenkins dated 19 Nov. 1865. She was baptized by The Rev. John Moore, D.D. and her sponsors were George A. Bowman and Mary E. Henry. (will refer to this entry)³. One for W^m Foy age 34, baptized "sub conditione", (on his death bed) 26 March 1866 by Rev. John Moore, D.D. The third was for Eileen CEZYK aged 19 yrs.

Made as to the date of Eileen Clark's certificate as I thought she became a Catholic first, The reason probably was that having no parents to sponsor her they waited until she became of age (18 is the legal date in S.C. or used to be.)

I knew that Mrs Jenkins and her Brothers used to attend Sunday School at St. Peter's Ch. Bpt. where my father and his sisters went, but did not know that she had been baptized.

I wrote to The Archives again asking if a mistake could have been made as to the date of Eileen Clark's certificate and if they had any records for Charles and Henry Foy.

The answer was in the negative for all questions. This was prior to getting the records catalogued etc. If the date of baptism for Eileen was 1868 or earlier she would have been listed in the 1850 Census. In Mrs Jenkins' scrap book, which she gave me prior to her death, she has a picture of the Clark home in Kentucky and under it she has written

"Ancestors of my mother's people" The following names:

Eliza Ann Clark; William Clark; Rosa Ann Clark; Eleanor Clark; C. B. Clark.

The archives of Cathedral in Charleston have now been catalogued etc. so they may now have more Foy data. re piece of burial time or rather date of death etc.

I will contact them once more.

Cezrk - Foy Family Datz

William Bernard Foy (born France) came to Canada in the 1830's and married Esther Robinson (Robertson?) from England. They embarked for Charleston, S.C. ca 1831/2. He became ill and died enroute. Just before his death he gave to his wife a small "strong box", impressing on her that fact that it contained all of his important papers and that she must not let it get out of her sight. He probably was a political refugee. After Mrs Foy's arrival in Charleston her son was born (William Bernard Foy Jr). The family had no early records as to where the widow stayed or where her son was born nor any date as to when they moved to Beaufort. In some way Mrs. Foy lost the box entrusted to her by her husband which, unfortunately, she had never opened.

For some reason Mrs Jenkins' brother, Henry Foy, seemed to think that William B. Foy was a descendant of Maximilien-Sébastien Foy (born 1724 d 1799) Ham, France. I wrote first to The Archives of Canada - Ottawa, Canada, they had no records. I then wrote to the French Archives, Paris, recd. a very charming letter, but lacking data of importance dates etc, naturally they were also unable to help. I then got my French cousin, Col. Beecon, to write the Mayor of Ham former, who was quite helpful, Gen. Foy had three sons, they all died in the 1870's, was only given the date of birth of one son. Tiburce, Vicomte Foy, b 26 Aug. 1816. Since my cousin remembers about as much English as I do French, he writes me in French and I answer in English, so I got a French teacher in Sarasota to write the Mayor of Ham for more data, after three attempts and no refiles we gave up. I have checked numerous encyclopedias but have found no genealogies. When Uncle Harry Foy's grandson, Henry Foy, was attending Clemson College (Now University) one of his teachers was from France, Henry said he noticed that his professor kept looking at him rather closely and one day he asked him to stay after class. He then asked Henry if he was related or descended from Maximilien Foy as he was the image of a statue of the General in Fontaine ~~de~~ Fontainebleau in the square in front of the castle. He was going to get his wife, who was living there, to send him a picture so he could show it to Henry, but never did.

I wish I had known ^{earlier} as I have been there. Have you any suggestions as to where we might find the needed information? The names of the sons are.

Maximilien - Sébastien - Auguste - Arthur - Louis - Fernand

died 1 November 1871 pair de France under Louis - Philippe

Tiborce, vicomte Foy b 26 Aug 1816 d 7 Sept 1870

had something to do with the Second Empire

Maximilien - Sébastien - Frédéric, general of brigade, died

11 Nov. 1877. The sons were too young to have been the parent of William but he may have been a brother of General Foy.

Doubt if you can solve this but worth a try
The Mayor did not mention the name of Maximilien's father but stated he was a military man.

Notes Clark + Foy - Jenkins Data

- Page III
- 1 Got this date from 1850 Census. James S. Clark's father was probably the James of the St. Luke's Parish (Bt District)
 - 2 I can't recall Jane Clark's maiden name
 - 3 George A. Bowman and Mary E. Henry were no doubt Catholics - will give Bowman on separate sheets.

- Page IV
- 1 William B. Foy died shortly after being baptized, do not know exact date
 - 2 The date of birth for Esther R. Foy was figured from 1850 Census
 - 3 Date of death of Ediz Clark taken from St. H. Ch. Records + Newspapers.
 - 4 Mrs Jenkins never mentioned the first name of Mr. Hzee, but did mention that he owned a Jewelry store in Bt. which was later owned by Mr. William R. Bristoe, which was later bought by his assistant Leamon Hzee, Leamon (or Lemon as he is known) lives in the large white "mansion" at the west end of Bay Street, he may know Mr Hzee's Name, however, I am NOT particularly interested. Lemon has a number of old pictures of Bft. which might be of interest to you and also has some old records and books.

Mr Haze's parents took Mrs Jenkins to live with them in Wakefield, Mass. when she was very young, she returned to Bft. when about sixteen yrs. old. I have often heard her speak of the Haze family. Mr. Foy was a conductor on the Charleston & Sav. R.R. during the war. I am not too sure of the name of the R.R.

5. Mrs Jenkins always celebrated her birthday on the 30th of June. (had 18 June)
It is not the same as on her Baptismal Certificate, many mistakes in copying dates have been made as you know. I do not have dates for her brother Charley but feel sure he was older. Mrs W^m J. Lever of Columbia gave me the Bostick date.

Note. Mrs Jenkins' Grandfather owned the house behind Lemon Haze on Charles St., now owned by Mr & Mrs Gus Frank, at that period it was ²one story house and was called "Woodbine Cottage", Mrs. Jenkins was born there. I asked Mrs. Stoney to see what data she could find when she was in Bft. but she probably did not have time. At that period I was trying to find the name of Mrs. Jenkins' grandfather, I was under the impression that his name was William Clark, some of the family connections insist that he was a descendant of "William Clark" brother of George Rogers Clark, which the records prove otherwise according to dates. Now that I have the census records I know that I was right, and feel sure that his name was James. I will give you a brief summary of the history of the house. The CLARKs probably lost the house during the war. It was bought by Mr. George Holmes who also owned the house where Lemon Haze now lives. He added the second story and lived there for quite some time. When he became engaged to a Miss Hazel, he renovated the house on the Bay and fixed it up beautifully for his lovely young bride. Thereby hangs another tale. The house on the Bay originally belonged to an ELLIOTT, and later bought by a D. JENKINS who lost it during the war, for many years it was known as the HOLMES house. Mr. Holmes owned a lot of property in Beaufort so you should not have much trouble checking the records. There is a book in the Court House which you probably have seen and which should be of help. "Register of Conveyances Book B. This book started in Nov. 1, 1863, Alexander P. Kitchum was appointed to act as Register of Deeds for Department of South, authorized to make registry of deeds and mortgages" etc. (Given to me by Mrs. Stanbey) Mrs. Stanbey was doing some work for me but did NOT check that book. She did check T2 Bird transactions in the City of Bft. Sara (Cole) Shultz of Texas, found some family deeds which had been re-recorded, as you know a lot of Bft. Co. deeds etc. have been destroyed.

Note This may solve the Clark relationship. The figures do NOT work out too well but the ages given in records are not too accurate. Elizabeth could ^{have} been 2 bit older or younger at time of death. As I wrote you I do not have more than two numbers of the SCHM Vol. 23. No. 1 Jan 1922 and No. 4. Oct 1922.

I asked for 2cc but was told that No. 1 and 4 were the only ones available - the others were out of print.

I bought the Marriage and Death Notices compiled by Mr A. S. Seeley, Jr from the Archives in Columbia; I believe that a few more are now available.

Have heard Mrs Jenkins say she was related to the Bowmans, Henrys, Courtneys, DeSaussures. I met Frank DeSaussure of Greenville (now dead) who called her "Cousin Essie" but never thought to ask about the relationship, that was many years ago.
