Dear Rev. Peebles & Miss Cora,

Hope you are both well and busy as usual. We are doing well. I am still enjoying my research and am still learning a lot and meeting cousins on both sides of my family.

I recently managed to have my grandfather Michael McKenzie Mattox's (my maternal great grandfather's) biographical sketch and photo placed on the 5th Georgia Cavalry website. He was listed already. He looks very dashing there I think. The website historian is trying to help me get a Confederate marker on his grave. Most of my CSA relatives have markers, but Michael McKenzie Mattox did not. He was an interesting fellow too; he was an itinerant Elder in the Primitive Baptist Church. He rode the same horse "Dixie" throughout the war; according to family oral tradition, she brought him home and dropped dead.

I am starting to lay out my booklet now, though I know I'll never be finished with the research. My booklet will be on all my ancestry, not just the Folk line.

Bill and I are planning to attend another reunion, this time a Proctor reunion in Swainsboro, Georgia in September. My mother's maiden name was Proctor. I have met a cousin (Charlene Turner Oglesby) in Swainsboro via another cousin whose name I got off of a mailbox in Garfield, Georgia when we were through there; he wasn't at home at the time. Charlene knew my mother's father Noah who died in 1952 when I was twelve. So Charlene and I can hardly wait to see each other and talk about family in September.

I am writing, as you may have guessed, to ask you a genealogical question. I noted on the web (copy enclosed) something attributed to you which interested me. I wonder if you can help me with any Mole data? I am particularly interested in Rebecca Mole's ancestry; she married John Adam Lightsey. I guess they were my double ancestors, having been the parents of John Frederick Lightsey who married Theresa Kinard (my great great great grandparents and parents of George Luther Lightsey, father of Mahala Clementine Lightsey who married William Nicholas Hemeter Folk, my great grandfather) and William Henry Lightsey, John Frederick's brother, who married Elizabeth Gooding; they were the parents of Mary Rebecca Lightsey who married Henry William Capers Folk, William Nicholas Hemeter's father. .

Do you know anything you can share with me on Jacob Mole and his wife (unknown to me), the father of Rebecca and (I believe) her brother named Frederick Mole? I know nothing of Rebecca other than she married John Adam Lightsey, and, their descendants.

Thank you so much.

Bill and I really enjoyed the Folk reunion, even though it wasn't my line, and meeting all the people, especially you and Miss Cora.

Blessings to you both,

Your Cousin, Judy Folk Schrader
