Dear Cousins:

Your editor is a member of the National Genealogical Society, and with my subscription I receive quarterly magazines full of the most interesting information for researchers. They include query letters, data on how you can research your "roots" regardless of color or race or culture. They have a fantastic library of family histories donated by persons who have finished their work and want to share it with others of the same surnames. There are articles which show you how to streamline your efforts so as not to waste too much time... there is information on how to approach your research into other countries... restrictions on when it is legal to take information from a published family history and when you cannot. You need to know that if the material you have copied is in the public record. If so, no one person can claim that information is solely theirs. And how would any of us be able to put together a family history without depending on others? One good example of taking from a published work is how many of our members who descend from the JAMES RAWLINS who came to New Hampshire in the mid-1600's found most of their information in John R. ROLLINS book published in 1874. So carry on sharing. It's what genealogists do best. And have a happy summer.

From a newspaper article in the Sacramento (California) Bee, Thursday, April 23,1992.

Your editor won't quote exactly because of copyright infringement, but she will quote the salient points. It mentions a book entitled "50 Simple Things You Can Do To Save Your Life". It fails to name the author and publisher but what it says is very important when one is planning one's life, especially if one is a genealogist, amateur or professional. DISCOVER YOUR MEDICAL ROOTS. It's crucial to know about the health of your family, your brothers, sisters, parents, uncles, aunts, grandparents and great-grandparents. Cancer, for example, is one medical history you must learn from your ancestors. Another is heart disease. Experts in the field estimate that about 4,000 of the known 10,000 diseases have genetic roots...like stroke, diabetes, and cancers such as ovarian, breast, prostate, colon, uterine, skin, kidney and pancreatic. Environmental and such factors as defective genes..diet, smoking, and lack of exercise are other factors. If you know your medical roots it could be a powerful incentive for modifying your lifestyle and getting periodic tests from your doctor. While you are doing your genealogical research ask about this question and collect as much medical information as you can, along with dates, places and names.

In bookstores and libraries you will find such resources. Bantam Books has published "If It Runs In Your Family". Each volume explains one family disease and how to reduce your risks. Genealogical Publishing Co., Inc, has "Family Diseases: Are You At Risk?" by Myra Vanderpool Gormly. It's an excellent summary of the entire topic. He was born in Clark Co., KY Jan. 4, 1811, and was therefore 88 years 7 months and 10 days old. In 1818 he was brought to Missouri, settling with his parents in Howard County. He moved to Linn County in 1837, and to Linneus in 1846, where he remained till his death. He occupied his time as a merchant and farmer. Of later years he had retired on a small farm at the southeastern edge of town and devoted his attention largely to lending money.

He was an honest, industrious man who treated all with fairness, and who had many

Above mentioned deed to William Stevenson was entered for the record June 5, 1866 in Fleming Co., KY. This deed probably originated in Brown Co., Kansas. A copy was recorded in a Fleming Co., KY, deed book. It appears that the above-mentioned REBECCA, widow of CARDIFF, returned after his death to Fleming Co. where her children REBECCA Maddox, MARTHA Fear and SARAH probably resided. If they had lived elsewhere than Fleming Co. the deed would have to be sent to that county for their acknowledgement.

It appears that CARDIFF died in Brown Co., Kansas, and his will is recorded there. Since FRANCIS and GREENBURY, sons of CARDIFF, are not mentioned in this deed they must have died before that date.

queries

I am a direct descendant of JOHN BRIGHTWELL RAWLINGS (1781-1861) and his wife MARIA (nee Hunt), both born in Eydon, Northamptonshire, England. They emigrated to the US with part of their family in a Mormon Company in 1851. I have been working on my family history for nearly 14 years now and am always hoping to find more distant cousins who might have keys to some of the questions that still puzzle me. I found your name and address on the internet in connection with Lists.rootsweb.com/index/intl/ENG/ENG-BANBURY-AREA.html and am wondering whether we may have some link in common? Eydon is in the Banbury area and JOHN BRIGHTWELL RAWLINGS once operated a carrier's cart between Eydon and Banbury. I await any replies with great interest.

On P.15 & 16 is the information on my ancestors. Note that the 5th child of GEORGE W. RAWLINGS and his wife Lucy was MINNIE, who was my grandmother. She, along with ZENA, EZEKIEL, SUSANNIE and MARY ELLEN are all buried here in Springfield, Missouri, but GEORGE, MARTIN and CHARLES left Springfield and I really would like to discover more about them. From EZEKIEL's OBITUARY it is stated that survivors were two brothers - GEORGE MARTIN of Dallas, Texas...and CHARLES of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. Does anyone have any further information about them? They would have been my great-uncles. Any help would be appreciated.

From the extended notes and correspondence in the files of Charles Rawlings, 1307 West Broadway, Columbia, MO 65203. Your editor has excerpted the important parts of this item.

In his book, "How We Built the Union Pacific", General Grenville M. Dodge, Chief Engineer for the road during its construction, gives a graphic account of how he named the city of RAWLINS (Wyoming). General RAWLINS was closely associated with General Grant throughout the Civil War and was his Chief of Staff when Grant became Commander in Chief of the Union armies. When Grant became president he named General RAWLINS Secretary of War. However, General RAWLINS died shortly after taking office.

General Dodge describes the following: "In the Spring of 1867 I received a letter from then General Grant suggesting that in my exploration during the year 1867 I take with me his Chief of Staff Gen. John A. RAWLINS for the benefit of his health. Gen. RAWLINS had shown a tendency toward consumption (tuberculosis) and it was thought that three or four months on the plains would be of great benefit to him." "With pleasure I invited Gen. RAWLINS to accompany me, with such friends as he might select. He came to me at Omaha (Nebraska) bringing with him Maj. J.W. McDunn A.D.C. and John E. Corwith of Galena, Illinois. Added to this party on my invitation was John R. Duff, son of a director of the railroad, and Mr. David Van Lennep, my geologist. We had an escort of two companies of cavalry and two of infantry under the command of Lt. Col. J.K. Mizner, and Assistant Surgeon, U.S. Army."

"We started out the first of June and went to the end of the track which was then at North Platte (Wyoming), then up the Lodge Pole river to the east base of the Black Hills. We spent the 4th of July at a military post on Crow Creek where Cheyenne now stands, and Gen. RAWLINS delivered a very remarkable and patriotic speech. From there we marched west across the Black Hills and Laramie Plains and passed through Rattle Snake Hills Pass, following a stream that emptied into the Platte just opposite Fort Steele, and at a point where the Union Pacific now crosses the North Platte River. We crossed this stream by swimming our horses and proceeded west. The country from the Platte west is very dry, no running water in it, and before we reached our next camp Gen. RAWLINS became very thirsty, and we started out in an endeavor to find running water, and I discovered a spring in a draw near where the town of RAWLINS now stands.

"When Gen.RAWLINS reached this spring he said it was the most gracious and acceptable of anything he had had on the march and said that if anything was ever named for him he wanted it to be a spring of water. I said 'We will name this RAWLIN Springs.' It took that name."

NB: A town grew up there named RAWLINS, a stop on the Union Pacific Railroad.

Editor's Note: The Thomas McComas mentioned here married a daughter of one PEMBERTON ROLLINS/RAWLINS about which we can find very little information. It is known that the McComas family was at Boonesborough in Kentucky at the same time when PEMBERTON ROLLINS/RAWLINS was killed by indians outside of Boonesborough Fort, along with Col. Callaway. This information is found in the Clinton County, Indiana, History. ASAHEL, DANIEL and MICHAEL RAWLINGS are members of a family who settled in what was once part of the Carolinas and was later formed into a state called Tennessee.

From Joan RAWLINGS Scott, now deceased, who was a charter member of the R/RFHA Association. She was an excellent researcher, thorough and careful, basing most of her data on official documents, family bibles, and census records. Here is one of the many Family Group Sheets she provided us in the past 13 or 14 years.

Family Group SheetDANIEL RAWLINGS, birth and death date unknown ;Md Sarah Nuttall, DANIEL RAWLINGS, birth and death date unknown; Md Sarah Nuttall, dtr. of Elijah Nuttall and his wife Mary Price. CELESTINA, b. 1841, Marion Co., IN; md July 19, 1866 to Wm. Templin or Temple.

In later research Joan found that ELEAZER was a son of AARON RAWLINGS (of whom there are many in this family) and a Hetty, whose surname is never mentioned in the files. After AARON died ca 1802/3 in Henry Co., KY, Hetty married a Mr. Dunbar. Some of AARON's and Hetty's children were JOSIAH, EFFY who md. a Mr. Denning or Demming; MARY "Polly" who md her second cousin STEPHEN RAWLINGS and moved to Johnson Co., IN... and another MOSES. There may have been more.

MARY, b. 1863, probably Madison Co., Iowa

LUTHER, b. 1866, probably Madison Co., Iowa

ELINORA, b. 1868, probably Madison Co., Iowa

I put this seemingly uninformative FGS in here in the hopes someone might come up with more information. On the back of this FGS as prepared by Joan there is a lot of source material - censuses (censii ?) which included town's names, and occupations. There are many, many more of these FGS in her file. It's such a shame they couldn't be researched more fully. Anyone interested?

The following are miscellaneous Kentucky Records of early RAWLINGS' immigration.

Selected Source books

- "Second Census of KENTUCKY, 1800." You will find RAWLINGS names on P.241. Very few ROLLINS names appear, not popular at that time.
- "Index to the 1810 Census of Kentucky." Mention of RAWLINGS on P. 167
- "The Handy Book for Genealogists", pp 114 and 115, show the location of counties in Kentucky, and gives information about the types of records available in each county. Also the address of the County seat.
- "Kentucky Genealogy and Biography, Volume III" Very few RAWLINGS are listed but you might find surnames of those wed into the R families.
- "Who's Who in Kentucky Genealogy", pp 81 & 236. This lists persons who are researching Rawlings who might be found in Kentucky.

We have copies of those various pages here in our files. Write me and I will send you xeroxes.

Originally submitted to thr R/RFHA by Elsie Wood Doke, compiled by her and others such as Wilma Rawlings, Doris & Joseph Rawlings, Stan Rawlings, Col. George Rawlings, Dorothy Ruhman, Carol Townsend, Ed Wiessing and others who have researched this mysterious RAWLINGS family who , so far as we know, descended from MICHAEL RAWLINGS and Mary Loudon. The following is an FGS of EZEKIEL RAWLINGS who is believed the eldest son of MOSES RAWLINGS, one of MICHAEL's children. To make clear, this particular FGS is from Elsie Wood Dokes, now deceased and one of the first persons who assisted your Editor in her first attempts at genealogical research. EZEKIEL RAWLINGS was purported to have been one of 7 brothers and we are not sure if they all came from England or if they were born in Maryland. When EZEKIEL married, his brother NATHAN signed his marriage bond. EZEKIEL bought land in Kentucky in 1807 from Simon Kenton, a famous indian scout. (Elsie had the signed deed in her possession.) When the War of 1812 broke out, EZEKIEL joined up with the Kentucky Volunteers and was killed at a battle that has been given 3 names..."Dudley's Defeat" because these Volunteers' leader was Gen.Dudley...Battle of the River Raisin because this is where the battle was fought...and the "Battle of Fort Meigs". It depends on which history book you read. In 1800 tax list for Kentucky the names of NATHAN, MICHAEL, MOSES, EZEKIEL and SAMUEL are found, along with a DANIEL, an AARON and others perhaps not related.

EZEKIEL RAWLINGS, b. 1765 in Virginia (or Maryland, etc.) He married Agnes "Nancy" Curry in Harrison Co., KY, Feb. 6, 1795. His father is reported to be MOSES RAWLINGS(1740-1787). His wife was b. 1773, place not known, and she died post 1851. She married (2) John Laughlin in Kentucky.
 Children: MICHAEL RAWLINGS, b. 1795, Pendleton or Harrison Co., KY; he md Margaret Couchman.(1805-1864) They were both Baptists. MICHAEL died Nov.6, 1861, Mendon, Illinois
 ROBERT, b. Aug. 10,1798, Pendleton Co., KY; md.Elizabeth Forsyth, Sept. 10, 1821; died Jan.12,1892, in Pendleton Co.
 JAMES, b. 1806, Baptist, md Rachel Lemmon Sept.28, 1828, Knox Co., Missouri and died in 1883 in Missouri
 ASAHEL, b. Jan.29, 1810, Harrison Co., KY; md. Dec.26, 1830 to Mary "Jane" Snodgrass, and he died Sept. 26, 1856 in near Uusa,Illinois
 EZEKIEL Jr., birthdate unknown, md Sarah Vaughan Mar.28,1839. He was killed in the Civil War serving the Confederate Army
 MARY "Polly", b. Mar.13,1800, Harrison Co., KY, md Benjamin Hatfield Mar.20, 1815 in Pendleton Co., KY. She died Dec.6, 1886 in Missouri.
 JANE, no birthdate known, md Mar.1,1821, Jacob Blackburn, Pendleton Co.,KY She died, probably in Indiana.
 ELEANOR, birthdate unknown, md Sept.18, 1826 to David Cunningham, probably in Kentucky. They remained there so far as is known.

Elsie Dokes ancestor was JAMES who md. Rachel Lemmon. In a letter found in Elsie's papers there was noted that EZEKIEL was a spy or scout under Patrick Henry. He was killed at Fort Meigs fighting British and Indians, and the date was May 13, 1813. He was 48 years old, leaving a wife and 8 children.

In a later note, Elsie wrote to me that EZEKIEL's wife Nancy, died in Adams Co.,ILL. She also felt sure EZEKIEL had been born near Harper's Ferry, Virginia. He was her ancestor.

Your Editor received a mysterious letter a few days ago addressed personally and not through the R/RFHA. It was not signed and had no return address, but for those of you who do e-mail here is the letter:

"GENEVIEVE RAWLINGS has an infant son. She is seeking her biological mother. I am sorry if I contacted you before regarding this matter but GNEVIEVE needs important data and contact with her mother. It is urgent that she find her. If you know of anybody who can help GENEVIEVE contact her mother please E-MAIL me at cmreuss@aol.com. If you do not have e-mail the public library in your area can assist you with this. Again, I am sorry if I have contacted you before but GENEVIEVE is in a desperate situation. Even if you just can give us a lead on how to find her mother. Thank you"

This person has never contacted me or the R/RFHA before, and since I don't have a computer I am throwing this out to you out there who do. Please try to contact this e-mail #. It sounds like perhaps her baby is ill with some affliction or condition that is inherited. GENEVIEVE might be adopted on not know her mother. Do what you can, and God Bless.

ROGER RAWLINGS, born ca 1634 in England (?), coming to the New World in 1654. He was married 4 January 1669/70 to Elizabeth Skinner, dtr. of Richard Skinner of Surry County, VA. Elizabeth was his 2nd wife, his 1st being Alice Newsom. ROGER died in Surry County in 1695. (P.497, Vol.IV GENEALOGIES OF VIRGINIA FAMILIES by Newsom) ROGER had a son WILLIAM, and daughter ELIZABETH.

In the book EARLY VIRGINIA IMMIGRANTS, ROGER is shown as arriving in 1654, sponsored by John Sharpe of Lancaster County.

ROGER is known to have been born ca 1634 since he states his age as 26 in a deposition in Surry County, dated Aug.19, 1660.

Richard Skinner's will in 1677, Isle of Wight County, VA, mentions grandson SKINNER RAWLINGS, his wife and his two daughters, plus daughter Betty married to ROGER RAWLINGS. ROGER's dtr. ELIZABETH md (1) William Pettaway, and (2) John Davis.

During the Bacon's Rebellion in Virginia, ROGER was taken before the court for assisting the Rebel's against the Crown to cross the river. He claimed that he had done it at gunpoint. There is no indication he was convicted. Governor Berkeley was so fiendish in revenge of the rebel uprising that King Charles II recalled him in disgust.

Surry County Tithables	in 1668	included JOHN and ROGER RAWLINGS
" "	in 1674	included two mentions for ROGER RAWLINGS
" "	in 1678	included two mentions for ROGER RAWLINGS
" "	in 1694	included mention of ROGER RAWLINGS

ROGER died in Surry County in 1695, and his will is dated 1694/95, March 5th. It mentions daughters ELIZABETH Pettaway and MARY RAWLINGS, his wife ELIZABETH, and Pettaway grandsons. There is no mention of any other children.

Some believe ROGER may have had 4 sons (remember Robert Skinner's will mentioning SKINNER RAWLINGS), but nothing has been proven unless the children died before their father.

Elsie Dent, an LDS researcher, also mentions SARAH RAWLINGS, b. 1678, as a daughter of ROGER and Elizabeth (Skinner) RAWLINGS. SARAH md Mr. Hickman after her father's death.

In "Surry County Records 1652-1684" (transcripts) P.355, dated 4 January 1669 William Newsom and wife sell to ROGER RAWLINGS and his wife Alice a parcel of land of 50 acres where said RAWLINGS now lives. If RAWLINGS has no heir it will return to Newsom.

Further in "Surry County Records Transcripts 1652-1684" P.16, May 17, 1672... Martin Johnson saith he heard Wm. Newsom reveal that a heifer belonging to ROGER RAWLINGS strayed into Thomas Taylor's field 2 years before. Other witnesses stated the same. (Obviously ROGER wants his heifer back.)

On Page 100, Jan. 20, 1675, of the same book of "Surry County Records Transcripts", ROGER appoints his father-in-law, Richard Skinner, his attorney for some legal action.

From Robert R. Bockmiller, now deceased, from his many contributions to this newsletter. Robert was one of finest genealogists we've ever had researching for us. We miss him.

The Montgomery County RAWLIN(G)S and their descent from RICHARD RAWLINGS of Anne Arundel, Maryland.

JOHN RAWLINS (ca 1690-1727), son of RICHARD RAWLINS of Anne Arundel County, Maryland, married Eleanor Ridgely, dtr. of William Ridgely. JOHN, son of JOHN and Eleanor RAWLINS, was born in Anne Arundel County in 1718. JOHN Jr. married Anna Sophia (surname unknown) and had at least four children; JOHN III, WILLIAM, ELIZABETH and MARY. About 1748 JOHN Jr. and his family moved to Frederick County in the vicinity of Dawsonville which is now located in Montgomery County. Here, JOHN Jr. was one of the original justices of Frederick County. He died in 1756.

WILLIAM RAWLINS, probably died young, moved from the area or gave up his inheritance. No records were found on WILLIAM after 1756.

JOHN III married Mary Hays, dtr. of Jeremiah Hays, and had 7 children. His oldest son THOMAS married Elizabeth Fulks and they had 6 children, 3 sons, 3 daughters. Another son, JOHN IV, married his first cousin Ann Hays, dtr. of Charles Hays and ELIZABETH RAWLINS. They had 7 children.

These RAWLINS of Montgomery County had a close association with the Hays family. There are numerous marriages between these two families over several generations. This was often true of many of the first families in Maryland, Virginia and other Southern states, as well as those first families in the New England states.
