

P.O. Box 241

Bat Cave, N.C. 28710

April 8, 1986

Dear Mr. Peoples,

In response to your letter - I obtained a copy of Eleana McSwain's book through the Orlando, Florida Public Library and therefore have no idea what her address might be. Any good sized library should be able to borrow a copy for you.

I am now looking for the parents of my great-great-grandfather Jeremiah Leake b. 1780(?) died Feb. 27, 1853 Bush River Plantation near Clinton, S.C. He named his two sons Jeremiah Franklin and William James Leake.

I have sent for the Revolutionary War Records of Jeremiah Leake, Pasquotank County, N.C. There seem to have been quite a few Leake's who fought in the Revolutionary War.

We are buying a computer for our business and I hope to get all of my family genealogy sorted and stored in a computer bank - right now it all resides in a couple of large baskets.

The Leake's seem to ^{have} had large and very prosperous family having arrived from England through the West Indies and into Virginia & South Carolina. Hopefully all the puzzle pieces will fall into place someday.

Sincerely,
Kay Beards Robinson