This series of books is unquestionably the finest regional genealogy for all of Ireland and perhaps any place in the world. Check it out if you have people from this area of southwest Co. Cork. It even outshines the 16 volume Casey Collection (O'Kief, Coshe Mange, Slieve Lougher and Upper Blackwater in Ireland) from a practical genealogy point of view.

- Introduction and Sources
- Riobard O'Dwyer, Author, and Ordering Information

The tables below are sorted alphabetically by husband's or wife's name. In a few cases the name was extremely hard to read and so the name is in quotes. These names sorted first. (That is, they will be at the start of the first table in each group.) You might note that the ' sorts before letters so that O' names (for example, O'Shea) come before the rest of the O names (for example, Oliver).

Many of the O'Sullivans and Harringtons and some others in the area apparently use a "nick-surname" in their everyday encounters. Some of these "nick-surnames" are listed in the index. This does effect the way the names are sorted in the index so look carefully.

IGSI - Bere Peninsula Families, County Cork

BEARA MAILING LIST

The Berehaven Peninsula in western County Cork (with a small portion in County Kerry) is a place of astonishing beauty and rich historic legacy. Here are the Caha and Slieve Miskish Mountains, the Owgarriff River with its crystal pools and waterfalls, the ruins of the once-fabled copper mines at Allihies, the traces of medieval roads, the stone monuments and burial mounds dating back to pre-history.

Here lived the O'Sullivans and McCarthys, the Leahys and the Lowneys, Sheas, Driscolls, Harringtons and Murphys - and a hundred other names - families connected by deep ties of kinship over centuries.

The troubles came, and the people of Beara were scattered to the utmost corners of the earth. They became the Mineralogical Irish of the Rocky Mountains and the antipodes; the Agricultural Irish of the Great Plains and the Outback; the Maritime Irish of St. John's and New Brunswick; the Builder Irish of the cities, roads, canals and railways. Where there was work to be done, there were the Beara Irish.

Parted forever from their lovely homeland, they kept Beara always in their hearts, so that knowledge of the place was handed down even to the fifth and sixth generations. The storied Berehaven Peninsula became our "Holy Land", the much loved home of these remarkable people who were our ancestors.

Now we have a mail list for discussion and research of the history and genealogy of the Berehaven Peninsula. The stories of the emigrants after leaving Beara are of as much interest as the ancient lore. If you want to share in learning about Beara, and to rediscover old family ties, you are as welcome as the flowers in May. Come home to the global village of Beara-West "in the Server of Rootsweb in the Realm of ye' ould Ethernet".

He was Secretary of the Beara Divisional G.A.A. Board in 1955, 1985-'87, '92-'94, Secretary of the Beara G.A.A. Schools Board for several years; and a member of the Cork County G.A.A. Board Competitions Structure Committee 1985-'88. He was goalkeeper on the Beara team that won, the Cork County Senior Football Championship in 1967 and the Munster Inter-County Club Senior Football Championship in 1968. He won Beara Junior Football Championship medals with St. Marys in 1964 and with Urhan in 1973. In 1976 he published a G.A.A. History Book "50 Years Of Beara Football".

In the musical world he won the Munster Senior Accordion-playing Championship in Irish Traditional music with a mark of 98P% in 1957 and traveled to Liverpool twice for St. Patrick's Night Concerts. He was finalist in the All-Ireland Fleadh Ceoil and Oirechtas accordion championships and had several broadcasts of Irish Dance Music over Radio Eirean.

In 1986 he was awarded The West Cork Stars Hall of Fame and in 1997 was Chairman of the Beara Divisional G.A.A. Board.

His first genealogical book (1976) "Who Were My Ancestors? Eyeries Parish" marked the first time in Ireland that so deep a study of a whole parish and of its people individually over the past 150-200 years was published. Research on the Allihies (Copper Mines) Parish was completed in 1988; Beara Island in 1989. The genealogy of the town and Parish of Castletownbere was completed in 1989; and research on the whole Beara Peninsula (including Adrigole and Glengarriff (as well as Bonane, Co. Kerry)) was completed in 1995.

In 1994 a Radharc T.V. Documentary Film "From Beara to Butte" was produced, based on his research work into the high emigration of the copper miners from Beara Peninsula to the mines of Butte, Montana. It was introduced by Riobard who also told a number of sad and humorous stories of life in the 1800's and early 1900's in Ireland, and in the States, and he also played most of the background music for the film on his accordion. While filming in the States Riobard lectured on his work in the home of world genealogy in Salt Lake City on the occasion of the centenary of the foundation of the Genealogy Society of Utah. He now spends his whole time doing Family-Tree research for people all over the world whose ancestors came from the Beara Peninsula in Co. Cork.
