TODAY, THE FIRST SUNDAY IN ADVENT, MEN OF THE CHURCH ALL OVER THE COUNTRY ARE making their communions. The Men's Advent Corporate Communion is observed in tiny missions as in great Cathedrals. Churchmen thus begin their preparation for the advent of the Christ at Christmas.

This year the observance is regarded as a particular act of thanksgiving for the growth of religious interest and activity among men of the Church. Throughout the Church this awakening is marked, expressing itself in service in Christian education, conduct of services as lay readers, conduct of the business affairs of parishes and missions, promotion of the Church's whole program.

Picture is from a poster exhibited widely throughout the Church in the pre-Advent season.
